Purpose

Blackbridge Harley-Davidson contacted TOA Canada to upgrade their audio equipment used for BGM (background music) at their retail location. They required this update to greatly improve the atmosphere and overall customer experience.

Challenge

The high ceilings created a challenge to run wiring and select the correct speakers required to produce the quality of sound needed from that height.

Solution

The skilled TOA Canada technicians used sound design software to assess the needs of the facility and accurately decide which equipment was required to install. TOA worked with the installer to ensure all equipment was positioned accurately and reverberation was kept to an absolute minimum.

Feedback

The employees and management at Blackbridge Harley-Davidson were very happy with the installation process as well as the excellent performance and controllability of the installed speakers.
